At Whitt's End

As we continue to grow as a company, I have seen a need for an employee company monthly newsletter so that everyone can keep track of our direction going forward. We are continuing to grow as a company and it is such a blessing to work with a group of individuals that make this possible. Make no mistake, our growth and reputation as a company begins and ends with each one of our officers and their commitment to their jobs and our company.

I think that the key ingredient in any successful company is the value we bring to each facility and our positive responses to anything that may occur. For this reason, it is so important that we utilize our reporting application with not only Incident Reporting but Daily Reports as well. Our customers have found that our reporting application, when used in the correct capacity, adds so much value to their facilities. Thank you for those that continually report each day on their activities; and if you're not, please jump in and take the opportunity to demonstrate your value to not only our company, but your facility as well.

In closing, thank you again for everyone that not only takes care of our company, but our customers as well. Job well done.
